

PAWS FOR APPLAUSE

ONE of the biggest drawcards of next weekend's expo will be the extensive stage entertainment program sponsored by You'll Love Coles.

It runs non-stop over the three days of the Expo.

Highlights include the Kramar Pet Company and Australia's number one dog trainer, Steve Austin, on stage twice daily with their Train Your Pet To Be A Star show.

There will be Groovy Grooming Designs by the Grooming School.

Leading vet, Melissa Holmes from Intervet will conduct Puppy Party And Early Puppy Socialisation and Dog Health Check: What Happens At The Vet sessions each Expo day.

The whole family will enjoy the Wally Wagalot Show by K9 Productions which will be on stage twice daily, thrilling audiences with their entertaining dog awareness performances.

A perennial favourite, the Canine Fashion Parade, will see a bunch of dogs strut their stuff on the runway.

In the Demonstration Arena, a schedule of non-stop and action-packed performances will see dogs of all shapes and sizes racing the clock over an obstacle course as well as dancing dogs and the German Shepherd Dog Obedience Team.

Responsible dog ownership is an important issue and visitors will learn more about this in the Puppy Is For Life presentations.

The Pageant of International Dog Breeds will see dogs and owners dressed in national costumes of the different countries from which the various breeds originated.

In addition, a small scale dog show called Real Best in Show will be held each day.
